

From "Among the Churches"

Meetings in the interest of the Universalist revival, which began last Sunday in the churches of the denomination in Brooklyn, a successful union Lenten service having been held on Wednesday evening, at which all the pastors made brief addresses, will be also held to-morrow, when the sermons announced last Sunday will be preached again in different pulpits. These exchanges of pastors are indicated in another column. The second in this series of week night Lenten services, begun by the Universalist ministers of Brooklyn for the special purpose of enlarging popular knowledge upon the faith of the denomination, will be held in the Church of the Good Tidings [Fourth Universalist], Quincy street, near Reid avenue, of which the Rev. Arnold S. Yantis is pastor, on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, when the subject "Can Men Defy God Forever?" will be discussed in brief addresses by the Rev. Dr. John Coleman Adams, the Rev. Dr. A.[Andrew] J. Canfield and the Rev. Dr. J. Russell Taber, especial emphasis to be placed upon the declaration that the message of Universalism is the message of the gospel.
