RAYMOND PEACOCK WAS CONTRACTOR

Raymond L. Peacock, 71 Lake Ave., died today after an illness of several months. He was born in Auburn and had lived in this city all his life.

Mr. Peacock was a retired contractor, having been in that business for 50 years. He built most of the homes on Peacock St., which was named for him, Standart Ave. and Boston St.

He served for two terms on the Auburn Board of Education and was a trustee of the Masonic Temple for 40 years. He was also a member of the Masons' bequest committee for 40 years.

Last week he was awarded a 50 year membership pin for the Masons but was not present at the ceremonies to accept [it]. Mr. Peacock was a member of the Universalist Church and the Auburn Lodge F&AM, and held membership in the Annar Grotto.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Laura Harnden Peacock, three daughters, Mrs. Wallace W. Lockwood of Pittsford; Mrs. Lyman I. Achenbach of Fort Plain, and Mrs. William [Mohagen?] of Skaneateles; one brother, Howard G. Peacock of Auburn; six grandchildren; one niece, one nephew.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Langham Funeral Home, with interment at Soule Cemetery.

Members of the Auburn Lodge F&AM will conduct services at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the funeral home.
