OBITUARY—HAYDEN SAGE

Hayden F., son of Fred A. Sage, formerly of Perry, died on Wednesday in Hinsdale, N.Y., after an illness of three months of tuberculosis.

The deceased was born in Perry 21 years ago, his mother passing away during his early childhood. He attended Perry High School, and among his other studies he became devoted to music, learning to play a cornet and becoming proficient with that instrument.

After his father sold his garage business in Perry, he went with the family to Buffalo, returning with them a few years later to Perry, where he was employed as time-keeper in the Kaustine plant. In January he was transferred to the company's warehouse in Buffalo, but was compelled on account of ill health to give up his position three months ago and went to Hinsdale, where his father has a poultry farm.

He joined the Universalist Church of Perry several years ago and was a young man of clean habits and fine character. Industrious and capable, life seemingly had a promising future for him.

The bereaved family have the deep sympathy of man friends here.

The funeral services were held last Saturday afternoon at the family home in Hinsdale, conducted by Rev. Mr. Perkins of that place, with interment in Maplehurst Cemetery, near Hinsdale.

Relatives and friends who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. C.B. Blowers, Miss Bernice Blowers, Mr. and Mrs. D.P. Sedam, Clayton Whipple and Miss Marion Hubbard, of Perry; Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Sage, Mrs. Catherine Sage, and MRs. B.H.
